

- Though it's in the title, it's not mentioned in the movie too much. Every time someone mentions "Christmas", toast the holidays.
- And, of course, "Twister" is in the name so we can tip it back for each tornado that's seen.
- BOOM! Let's blow sh*t up and get drunk when it happens!
- Someone's holding onto a door during a tornado...we've seen this before and it didn't work out so well. Drink to their hopeful health.
- Gratuitous pet in the scene for the cute factor. Take a sip and order a Chewy Box for its Christmas present.
- F6? What's that? I dunno, but it sounds like a big deal so we need to make it part of the drinking game.

CHRISTMAS TWISTER EGGNOG

Ingredients

5 oz eggnog
1 ounce spiced rum
1 sprig rosemary

Directions

1. In a cocktail glass, mix eggnog with spirits and stir.
2. Light the sprig of rosemary, and then cover the flaming sprig with an upside-down shaker to dowse the flame and create smoke.
3. When smoke fills the shaker, pull the sprig out and quickly cover the cocktail glass with the smoke-filled, upside-down shaker.
4. Allow the smoke to infuse into the eggnog for at least 1 minute, remove the tumbler, and serve. BOOM...tastes like a Christmas Twister just went through.
